

Honest Woman Returns 350 Lottery Tickets

WARREN, Mich. (AP)—Until her conscience got the better of her, Dolores Leach thought she was headed for an early retirement. While she sat her two daughters were out walking the family dog Sunday, they spotted some unused Michigan lottery tickets scattered across a playground near their house.

They looked closer, and within 15 minutes they had found more than 350 "instant" tickets. They took the tickets home and started rubbing off the way substance that covers the ticket prize numbers. By the time all the daughters were uncovered, they discovered they had more than 350 winners, including two "instant" tickets, each worth at least $50 plus a shot at prizes ranging from $100 to $10,000.

Then, according to 17-year-old Leach, "our conscience started to get to us. Besides, we figured they might be stolen and we didn't want to get blamed."

They figured right. A call to Warren police confirmed the tickets were part of a group stolen about three hours earlier from a nearby store. Police came and picked up the tickets.

"I thought for a while I was going to be able to retire," the 16-year-old Mrs. Leach said. "But I guess I really know better all along."

A state lottery official said the Leachs might have been able to cash some of the $2 or $5 winners, but the big winners would have been pulled from the system by computer as soon as their theft was reported.

New York's Porn Zoned Off the Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The man from City Hall who yells at us to try and check the spread of New York's porn industry has another idea: zone the stuff onto the second floor of all apartment buildings.

This, says Mayor John Lindsay, would be an interesting thing to try. "You wouldn't have citizens attracted and offended by the stores," Baumgartner says. His latest scheme grows from a June decision by the U.S. Supreme Court in which the City of Detroit was allowed to zone its own sleazy industry into designated areas.

The Detroit plan says porn parlors must be at least 1,000 feet apart. Boston has set of the reverse. It puts porn in a concentrated neighborhood that has been tagged "The Combat Zone."

Baumgartner says he wants his version of plan to be considered by the city Planning Commission which is reviewing ideas for zoning.

Second Debate Set In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The second debate between President Ford and Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter will take place in San Francisco on Oct. 6, the San Francisco Chronicle said today.

The Chronicle quoted George T. Davis, Carter's area campaign manager, as saying representatives of both parties were scheduled to be in San Francisco today to plan the nationally televised event in the 1,300-seat Veterans Auditorium.

SHOP LATER THIS WEEK & GET MORE FOOD FOR YOUR DOLLAR!

It's just a few days until we open. The Kash & Karry Warehouse Market is a new concept in grocery shopping that will cut your food costs.

Conventional supermarkets stock a multitude of over 8,000 or more brands, items, sizes, cans and packages. They stock many sizes of the same brand, and many brands of the same size. Catsup for example, comes in 5 bottle sizes and many stores stock 3 or 4 brands with a total selection of over 20 different brand & size combinations.

At the Kash & Karry Warehouse Market we purchase the quality brand with the lowest cost in several, not all the sizes. We sell it to you from warehouse racks, in original cartons.

We save the cost of handling all the other various brand and size combinations-and we pass our saving on to you. As we run out of one deal brand, we schedule another to replace it.

The result: a lower price on catsup, and thousands of other nationally known brand items!

Neighborhood Soffie Is Victim

By HELEN BOTTLE

Dear Helen: I guess there's one in every neighborhood, but why do I get stuck with the fruit of this female's laziness?

I've never met her—she stays about—but her little Johnny shows up on our door step every morning, loud, fat, and not very clean. And he stays playing with my 4-year-old Trina, until evening.

It's a good kid, but what Trina doesn't think of her, and I'm run ragged, especially since our men set in 7 months old. Besides, he calls like he never gets a square meal anywhere else.

Other neighbors tell me I'm a soffer. But what can you do when a child is obviously uncared for? I suspect these brutes aren't all the result of falls. I've heard his mother screaming at him. His father seems okay—when he's home from his several jobs.

Okay, so I'm hounding up Broward points for Heaven. How do I get through "me"?

Dear Publisher: Yes, there's usually one in every neighborhood. I mean the kind-hearted "soffer" who let her fat crows leech more like a thorn in her side.

Since you're not built to ignore a neglected child, and you can't Broward points with me here!—how about enlisting the help of other mothers on the block? I don't think they'll turn their backs when they recognize a real need for surrogate parenting.

Meanwhile, learn more about this mother. She may be ill or emotionally unbalanced.

Her husband seems more approachable, so talk to him and find out what's happening.

If it's indicated, suggest Parents Anonymous or other counseling. Professional and neighborhood support—
